Scenario: Assignment Tracking

Sarah is a second-year law student juggling multiple class assignments and projects. She uses the study planner app to enter each assignment's due date as soon as she receives it. The app provides her with a weekly overview of upcoming tasks and automatically reminds her two days before each deadline.

User Stories:

As a law student, I need to track multiple assignment deadlines so that I can prioritize my workload effectively.

Scenario: GPA Monitoring

Tom, an undergraduate in mechanical engineering, wants to maintain a specific GPA to qualify for an internship. He puts his grades into the study planner website, which calculates his current GPA and shows him the grades he needs in upcoming assignments to reach his target.

User Stories:

As an engineering student, I need to monitor my GPA closely so that I can meet the requirement for my desired internship.
